

Motion to: Council

26 September 2023

Subject: Working four days a week

Proposer: Councillor Worley

Seconder: Councillor Galvin

---

An amendment has been received from Councillor Stonard

Councillor Stonard is amending the motion as follows:

Inserting the words “if based on evidence this would ensure the performance and value of residents’ services were improved,” after the words “working week at full pay” in resolution 3).

Inserting the words “including trade unions” after the words “with partners” in resolution 3)

So that revised motion becomes:-

Several UK-based campaigns, including the campaign of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development, call for flexible working arrangements to be a day-one right for all employees and that job adverts should stipulate this flexibility. Flexible working arrangements benefit different groups of people, including parents, carers, people who want to study, and people who volunteer in their community. They also support mental and physical health. Trials where employees have worked a four-day week have led to better retention which has saved expense in agency fees.

Growing evidence, including a trial of 2500 government employees in Iceland who switched to a reduced (four-day) working week for a period of 4 years suggests that productivity stays the same or improves when working hours are reduced. The Iceland trial found that the well-being of employees also increased dramatically.

Council RESOLVES to:

- 1) continue to provide exemplar practices regarding flexible working arrangements throughout the different levels of the organisation, including stipulating flexibility in job adverts
- 2) extend its longstanding work with partners on the living wage to support flexible working; and
- 3) explore the benefits of a reduced working week at full pay, if based on evidence this would ensure the performance and value of residents’ services were
