Report

Introduction

1. The Council served Tree Preservation Order (TPO) No 423 on 28 February 2008 in response to public alarm that trees at the Deal Ground were being felled. A copy of this TPO is attached as Appendix A.
2. An area order was served so as to preserve all trees currently growing within the site.
3. A site meeting subsequently took place between the Council's Tree Protection Officer, the Land Owner's agent, and the County Council Ecologist in order to discuss the effect and extent of the TPO.

Objections and support

4. A copy of the Order has been served on the owner with a copy sent to interested parties. One letter of objection has been received. This letter has been attached to the report as Appendix B.

Considerations

5. The main objections to the TPO are that:-

“The Council has served the TPO in order to ensure that the trees within the area A1 are a material consideration in any future development of the site. Clearly, not all trees within this Area are worthy of legal protection or would be considered as material considerations in development terms, because some trees are in poor condition and some do not make an effective contribution to public amenity.
6. The TPO has been modified with due consideration to the objection, and on site discussions with the owners agent; the modification being a reduction in the extent of the Area 1 boundary to reflect the existing boundaries of that area of land within the site which is identified in the City of Norwich Replacement Local Plan 2004 as River valley/ Environmental asset and site of Nature Conservation Interest; known regionally as Carrow Abbey Marshes County Wildlife site. The revised TPO is attached to this report as Appendix C
7. The revised area excludes the land designated as a proposed Employment Site.
8. Both the physiological, and health and safety condition of the trees will be a consideration at the Planning Application stage as is current standard Council practice. If confirmed, this TPO will also be a consideration when progressing plans and policies through the local development framework, including masterplanning for future development.

9. According to the Natural Environment and Rural Communities Act 2006:-

“Every public authority must, in exercising its functions, have regard, so far as is consistent with the proper exercise of those functions, to the purpose of conserving biodiversity.”

Human Rights Implications

10. Under the Human Rights Act, 1998, it is unlawful for a public authority to act in a way, which is incompatible with a convention right.

11. Article 1 of the First Protocol to the European Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms is relevant to this matter. It provides that every person is entitled to the peaceful enjoyment of his or her property.

12. No one is to be deprived of property except in the public interest and subject to the conditions provided for by law. The State may enforce such laws as it deems necessary to control the use of property in the general interest.

13. It is the view of the Head of Planning and Regeneration that the reason for making the Order is in the public interest, in that the trees form an important part of the amenity of the area, contribute to the encouragement of biodiversity and should therefore receive such protection as the law affords.

Dear Sirs,

Objection to Tree Preservation Order No 423 – Deal Ground, Norwich

I have been requested, on behalf of my client to lodge a formal objection to the above Tree Preservation Order(TPO). I inspected the trees included within the TPO 20th March 2008.

The grounds for objection are as follows.

The current TPO affords protection to all trees within the area demarked by the black dotted line on the map within Schedule 1 of the TPO. This area is known as A1. The Council has served the TPO in order to ensure that the trees within the area A1 are a material consideration in any future development of the site. Clearly, not all trees within this Area are worthy of legal protection or would be considered as material considerations in development terms, because some trees are in poor condition and some do not make an effective contribution to public amenity.

On the basis of the above, I expect that the Council will wish to scrutinise the tree stock more closely with a view to modifying the current TPO to be specific to individuals and/or groups.

I hope that the above is clear but if I can be of any further assistance or you would like to arrange an accompanied site inspection to discuss the objection further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours faithfully
